

• Hyperlipidemia. There are many dangers from having high or low cholesterol levels, including heart disease and stroke. Cholesterol disorders are silent diseases and, if not treated successfully, can create a buildup of cholesterol in your blood vessels. This will put you at risk of blockage of blood flow and serious complications. A key to managing this disease and living a healthy life, is early identification of risk factors.